Goldsboro Riot.

The riot grew out of an influx of five thousand negroes into the above city, in charge of the Republican Central Committee, and they were steamed up with bad gin.

Sir Walter Scott.

The 15th of August is the centennial anniversary of the birth day of the great novelist whose name heads this article. Will not our fellow-citizens, particularly his countrymen, celebrate the day?

Pension Office Business.

The number of pension certificates issued by the Commissioner of Pensions for the present month is 3,598, as follows: Invalids, 1,317; widows, 952; navy, 30; war of 1812, 1,299.

Important to Druggists.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue holds that all imported and domestic perfumery and cosmetics must, before being sold, have affixed to each bottle a revenue stamp. A stamp upon a package in which is inclosed smaller packages or bottles will not suffice.

Currency Statement.

Mutilated notes burned during the week ending July 29th, $469,760; bank currency issued for bills destroyed during the week ending July 29th, $601,980; balance due for mutilated notes, $251,072; bank circulation outstanding this date, $319,884,679; national gold bank circulation issued to date, $440,000.

St. Louis Fair.

The eleventh annual fair of St. Louis county, Missouri, will commence October 2d, 1871, and continue six days. This fair promises to be the great international fair of the Union. Its grounds and buildings are the finest in the West, and are nowhere surpassed on this continent. Among the premiums this year are the cotton prizes, amounting to $10,000, subscribed by citizens of St. Louis, and the hog prizes, amounting to $1,250, subscribed by the St. Louis pork men. A prize of $1,000 awaits the fastest trotting horse. The Wooden Manufacturers' Association will hold its fourth annual session in connection with the fair.

Coffee Imports.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1871, the total import of Rio coffee into the United States was 1,537,061 bags, being an increase of 318,360 bags over the import of the previous year. The imports of the three years previous averaged about 1,200,000 bags. A very large increase of this import trade is reported at New Orleans and Mobile. While New York has increased her import only 2 per cent., New Orleans has enlarged hers from 139,742 bags to 206,945, an increase of 45 per cent. One cargo was received at New Orleans and two at Mobile, to be transmitted unbroken to St. Louis, a city that has been lately making some remarkable demonstrations in foreign trade. This is a significant item in the new trade movements by which New York will lose her emporial supremacy.

The Stories of Famine in Persia Exaggerated.

The Persian Minister in London, denies explicitly the reports which have been received recently of the ravages committed by the famine plague and cholera in Persia. He says there is undoubtedly a lamentable scarcity of food among the poorer classes, and that they are fed at the expense of the government in cemeteries, because there is in them alone sufficient room to accommodate the great crowds of people who appeal to the authorities for subsistence. Order is preserved by the police, and from this fact has arisen the story that force has been employed for the preventation of the disintering the dead for use as food. The Minister expresses the opinion that all the horrible stories emanating from his country, are the work of commercial agents.

Georgia Matters.

The Constitutionalist, of Augusta, says the Grand Lodge of I. O. O. F. met in that place yesterday.

The crops laid by, says the Times and Planter, Sparta.... Rev. B. H. Sasnett, critically ill.

A public meeting on agricultural matters to be held on the 5th at the Courthouse, says the Monroe Advertiser.

Wagons coming in loaded with cotton.... Copper ore discovered in Butts county, says the Chronicle and Sentinel.

Six hundred hands at work on the North and South Railroad.... River very low, says the Columbus Enquirer.

Bartow Superior Court now in session.... Rev. Dr. Wm. H. Felton to preach at Cartersville next Sunday, says the Express.

Mrs Elizabeth M. Tyler, dead.... Bad crop reports.... Dr. Skinner of the Baptist Church left for New York.... Real estate increased in price, says the Columbus Sun.

Stockholders of the North and South Railroad to meet in Rome on the 11th. Captain Dunlap Scott elected member of Board of Trustees for State University at Athens, says the Rome Courier.

At Macon Monday the thermometer stood at 98.... Hall for Defiance Company No 5 nearly finished.... Silver Cornet Band received new instruments.... Mr. David Goodloe dead, says the Telegraph and Messenger.

During the month of July, licenses were issued to eleven whites and forty blacks.... N. H. Starbuck admitted to plead in the various courts of Georgia.... Value of taxable property, polls and professions in Chatham county is $23,380,281, says the Savannah Advertiser.

Letter from Tennessee.

MONTVALE SPRINGS, BLOUNT CO.,
EAST TENN., July 26, 1871.

Editor Constitution: I will try and redeem my promise by writing you a short letter from this beautiful watering place, hid among the mountains of East Tennessee. Our party has been here some two weeks, and have had one continual stream of enjoyment during the time. We find visitors here from Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama and our own State—all well represented, besides quite a number of Tennesseeans. All seem bent on having a good time. (Do not hear the question of, how is business, mentioned as among business men when at home.) We have many sources of enjoyment. Your correspondent has been trying to add to his muscle and to win the championship at the ten pin ally, which he has signally failed in doing, having been floored by that big-hearted gentleman, Mr. Spot McC——, of Knoxville, who is certainly one of the best fellows living. One of Atlanta's promising young lawyers made the largest run made this season, here at this game. Our old friend Stewart, who two years since lived in Atlanta, has charge of the ball-room and succeeds in procuring partners for the many dancers. Your correspondent has been voted one of the youngest here, you would certainly think so if you could see him jumping around in the ball-room. The accomplished Mrs. C., of Macon, was called home by the sudden death of her brother, much to the regret of all here. I believe she favored you with a letter or two from this place. The purest voice here is that of Mrs. D., of your city, who has one of the sweetest voices I ever heard. The reigning belle is Miss Willie O., of Mississippi, who has the happy faculty of making every one feel happy, and keeps the young and old fellows ready to do her bidding. Our party will leave here in a few days for the warm springs in North Carolina, where they design spending a short time, thence for home. You will probably hear from us again from that point. Would advise any one seeking enjoyment to come to this place. Mrs. King, sons and steward, do all that is possible to add to the enjoyment of their guests, and the table is unsurpassed. I will not try to describe the scenery—will leave that for some other more accomplished pen.

GEORGIA UNIVERSITY.

The Banquet.

Special Correspondence of The Constitution.

ATHENS, August 1, 1871.

The Banquet of the Alumni of the University came off last night, and was a brilliant affair. About two hundred Alumni were present. The Banquet was served in Dupree's spacious hall. The following are the regular toasts:

Toasts at the Alumni Dinner, July 31st, 1871:

1st. To the memory of our deceased Trustees. To be drank standing and in silence.

2. To the present Board of Trustees—"Honor to whom honor is due." The Board has a great work to do—the complete endowment of the University of Georgia, and her expansion till she takes rank with the universities of the world, and throws open her halls, tuition free, to all her children. Responded to by Hon. Charles J. Jenkins.

3. To the memory of the deceased Presidents. Professors and tutors. To be drank standing and in silence.

4. To the Chancellor and Professors now in office—Ripe scholars, efficient instructors, christian gentlemen. The youth of the country need not look elsewhere for training. Responded to by Rev. Andrew A. Lipscomb, Chancellor.

5. To the memory of our decesed Alumni. To be drank standing and in silence.

6. To the living Alumni—They owe a duty to their Alma Mater, and they are here to pledge themselves and their absent brothers to discharge it and to assure the Board of Trust that they are ready "to help aid and assist in every work, however difficult or dangerous," which the Board may plan for the advancement of liberal education, learning and of schools of Industry, combined with mental culture, regarding as they do, all students of the University as Peers in whatever school engaged. Responded to by Hon. Wm. Hope Hull.

7. To the Alumni of the first quarter of the present century. They did what they could to keep our Alma Mater among living institutions; they have exemplified their training as heralds of the crops, as physicians, as lawyers and as citizens in others walks of life, equal to any of their day some of them still linger among us and manifest their interest by their presence at this festive board. Among them we welcome Colonel W. H. Jackson, the only survivor of the graduating class of 1804, and Mr. John Phinizy, of Augusta, the sole survivor of the class of 1811, and besides them none remain of the first decade of our Alma Mater.

The present century, they did what they could to keep our Alma Mater among living institutions, and they have exemplified their training as heralds of the crops, as physicians, as lawyers, and as citizens in other walks of life, equal to any of their day; some of them still linger among us and manifest their interest by their presence at this festive board. Among them we welcome Col. W. H. Jackson, the only survivor of the graduating class of 1804, and Mr. John Phinizy, of Augusta, the sole survivor of the class of 1811, and beside them none remain of the first decade of our Alma Mater.

Responded to by Hon. Iverson L. Harris.

8. To the Alumni of the second quarter of the present century. They present many historical names of whom our Alma Mater may justly feel proud, but to individualize them might seem invidious. Let us cherish the memory of the dead, and let us love the living; we have a heart for all our Alumni, of whatever party or creed; a mother's full heart goes out to each and all.

Responded to by Hon. James Jackson.

9. To the Alumni of the third quarter of the present century. They promise to equal, if not surpass in all respects, their illustrious predecessors.

Responded to by Hon. O. A. Bacon, Esq.

10. To graduates of the Law school. May they rise to eminence, bless the country, and in preserving its liberties and hand them down to posterity, whole and entire.

Responded to by Mr. Washington Dessau.

11. The graduates of the engineer school. They are already in demand; all being either on some railroad or in some professional employment, testing their training. Two have just been called to the Southern railroad and we welcome here to-night one who has just been advanced to the rank of Chief Engineer. Responded to by Mr. W. W. Thomas, Chief Engineer.

12. The Rev. Clergy of the Alumni, they also guard with untiring zeal and ceaseless vigilence the paramount interest of the immortal soul. Responded to by Rev. Benj. M. Palmer, DD. LLD.

13. The noble profession of Medicine of the Alumni, they labor to restore health and prolong life; may they be appreciated and duly rewarded for their toils. Responded to by H. V. M. Miller, M. D.

14. The necessary profession of Law of the Alumni. 'Tis their business to watch over life, liberty and property, may they be always found true to duty. Responded to by Gov. J. E. Brown.

15. The Press, "the art preservative of arts." We hail with joy the fact that a number of our Alma Mater are connected therewith, may the number of each continue to grow. Responded to by Henry H. Jones.

16. The Fair, never to be forgotten by "good men and true, God bless them."

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, August 2.—The number of deaths from the Westfield disaster, up to date, is eighty-four.

Two men were thrown from the Second Avenue cars, on Sunday, by two roughs. One of them are dead and the other will die. The murderers are at large.

David W. Keelcher, associate editor of the "Irish World," is missing since Sunday. It is feared he was lost on the Westfield.

The steamer Ashland, from Fernandina, passed last evening, off Abscom, two sunken schooners, apparently the result of a collision.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 2.—The America sailed with Gen. Capron and party, three hundred Chinese and forty passengers.

Ship Napier was totally wrecked on Baker Island.

MEXICO.

CITY OF MEXICO via Brashear City, Texas, August 1.—There are still doubts about the elections. The permanent deputation of Congress wants new elections at various places. Where there were informalities, revolutionary rows exist against the Government. Jobasce caused local or rather personal rumors current, that Governor Diez refuses to give up to the Federal Government the guns of Baxaca, captured in 1867. It is probable that Generals Rochas and A. Latorre will go with the troops to enforce the delivery.

FRANCE.

PARIS, August 2.—The Siecle announces that the members of the Republican Left have tendered a proposition for fusion with the extremists.

The assemblage of the courtmartial has been postponed to the 8th inst.

Jules Favre has resumed the practice of law.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, August 2.—Papers have been seized at Versailles relating to the purpose of the Internationals to fire the docks, burn the shipping and take the shipping during the confusion. Nancy and Bourges were to be fired and taken on the same plan.

A LIFE-SIZED PORTRAIT OF GENERAL LEE FOR GEORGIA.—The City Council of Savannah, some time since, resolved to procure a life-size portrait of General Lee, and has been in correspondence with a number of artists in regard to it. We are gratified to be able to state that our fellow-citizen, John A. Elder, Esq., has been selected with great unanimity to carry out this patriotic intention. The letter communicating the action of the Council of Savannah to Mr. Elder shows in what high esteem the Georgians hold him as an artist. The price to be paid is $1,200, and we are sure that the portrait, when finished, will widely advertise Mr. Elder's genius and skill as an artist in the sunny South.—Richmond Enquirer.

☞ New England is probably the only portion of the world in which the beaten party takes pride in keeping green the memory of its threshings. Bunker Hill monument commemorates, in lasting stone, a contest in which the Bostonians were driven from the field. And now the members of mighty Rhode Island's infantry regiments have been holding a celebration in honor of the first battle of Bull Run. Anniversaries to perpetuate the pleasant remembrances of the British burning the capitol at Washington, and of our humiliating snubbing at the hands of England in the Trent affair, are now in order.—Chicago Times.

THE ALABAMA AND CHATTANOOGA RAILROAD.—The good work of exposing the villainies of the Stanton combination is only begun. New developments are making every day and more will be made. It is not enough that the very name of Stanton has become a stench in the very nostrils of every honest man, but they must be taught that the law will not permit impunity to men who steal millions from a State and then try to degrade her Chief Magistrate with a bribe, while it punishes their starving laborers who steal food and clothing to sustain life.—Times.

☞ Texas invalids are apprised of their approaching decease by seeing the doctor trying on their coats and boots.—Star.

☞ Lemon will cure chill fever and correct a bad liver.

ATLANTA:
THURSDAY, AUGUST 3, 1871.

Subscribe to The Constitution.

Parties spending a part or the entire season at the various springs, or other summer resorts through the country, can have THE CONSTITUTION sent to them by addressing a line to this office.

A full report of the decisions of the Supreme Court is furnished to THE CONSTITUTION exclusively, by the Reporter of the Court.

Who Runs the Machine!

Governor Bullock is at Newport, and Chap Norris is after the Warren county Ku-Klux, assisted by Mr. Knowles in the rural districts. Who is attending to Georgia's interest in the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad?

Lee Memorial Volume.

The information now received is, that the above book, so long delayed by causes over which neither the faculty nor the publishers have had any control, is now going to press, and will soon be ready for the public.

Louisiana Radicals.

The election of delegates to the Republican State Convention is going on at this time. The information received is, that the feeling between the Dunn and Warmouth factions is very bitter. In fact, except on but one subject, and that spoils, is there any unanimity in the party.

Governor Bullock's Letter.

From the Union and American, we republish the following: "It is stated that the publication of the letter of Governor Bullock, of Georgia, in answer to the circular of the Ku-Klux Committee, cost the State of Georgia over $8,000. That's the way the money goes."

General McCook.

The above gentleman, who is the Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio, has entered upon the canvass in that State with vigor and energy. The Republican press admit that his audiences are large, and that the enthusiasm is great, and it is very perceptible that his speeches are having a decided effect.

Louisville and Cincinnati.

The proposed change of gauge of the Louisville and Cincinnati Short Line Road has been postponed till Sunday, August 13th. The narrow gauge rolling stock could not be got from the East sooner. The road will, when the change is made, conform to the gauge of its Northern connections, making a through line from Louisville to the Eastern cities without change of cars for freight or passengers.

Good Advice.

Ned Myers and Lewis Coppedge, colored, recently suffered the extreme penalty of the law in North Carolina for murder. Coppedge made a speech from the gallows in which he said: "There is a party which they call the Union party—the Radical party. They never do us any good. They do us harm. They make us do mean things. No Radical ever came to me and said, Lewis here is something for you before you die. I advise you all to take care of yourselves."

Cotton Tax.

We republish an item to-day, taken from our dispatches of a day or two since—one of importance to those who have dealt largely in cotton. The dispatch stated that the Commissioner of Internal Revenue is having refunded the cotton tax collected on the rope and bagging, known as tare. The amount of cotton tax collected by the Government was about $80,000,000, $3,000,000 of which was tare tax. The certificate of the Collector of Internal Revenue is required in all claims of this kind.

☞ A superlatively ridiculous opinion, says the Age, has been given by the Attorney-General of the United States. Congress passed a law to prevent stamped envelopes from being used as an advertising medium, the first manufacturer having put his own business card on them. This law, says the Attorney-General, is violated even by a straight line on the face of the envelope, on which the direction is commonly written. This is a most absurd decision; but the more important question is whether the government, having sold these envelopes to the people, will now repudiate them, and throw letters in them out of the mails. Is that part of the learned decision of the Radical Attorney-General?

An Electioneering Scheme.

It is announced, says the Chicago Times, that the Ku-Klux committee propose to ask the President to declare martial law in three counties in South Carolina. To declare martial law in three counties, is just as unconstitutional, and just as outrageous, as though it included every inch of territory in the Union. Nevertheless, martial law in three counties in a single Southern State will not secure Mr. Grant's election. As his nomination and election were the main, if not the entire, object sought by appointing the Ku-Klux committee, is not the narrowing of martial law down to three counties a very impotent recommendation for the furtherance of the presidential campaign of Mr. Grant?

Young Men.

From an Ohio exchange we noticed that it objected to a name on the Democratic ticket on account of the youth of the young man. This objection should not control, other things being equal, for this argument of too young, does not always hold good. Jefferson was an influential member of the Legislature at twenty-nine, at thirty he was a member of the Virginia Convention, and at thirty-three he wrote the Declaration of Independence. Alexander Hamilton was a Lieutenant Colonel in the army and an Aid to Washington at twenty; at twenty-five he was a member of the Continental Congress; at thirty a member of the convention that formed the Constitution of the United States. John Jay was a member of Congress at twenty-nine, and wrote an address to the people of Great Britain, which was regarded as a very able paper; at thirty-two he prepared the Constitution of the State of New York, and during the same year was appointed Chief Justice of the State. Washington was Commander in Chief of the Virginia forces when twenty-seven years old. Fisher Ames, by his ability in debate, ranked high at an early age, and was elected to Congress when thirty-one. Story was elected to Congress when twenty-nine, and was a Judge of the Supreme Court at thirty-two. Clinton, Clay, Hooper, Haywood, and many of the most prominent men of their day, occupied high positions when quite young.

President Grant's Unpopularity.

Our exchanges, and particularly our Radical ones, daily bring fresh evidence of the bad odour the President is falling into even with his own party. His administration of the government meets with contempt and disappointment, and there is nothing about the man any way that excites enthusiasm. Office-holders, relatives and trencher satellites alone back him up. His corruptions in New Orleans, in packing his supporters in the custom-house and post-office, are bitterly denounced by the New Orleans Republican, a Radical paper. In New York, a large number of his party are fighting his administration, and his friend, Senator Conkling. Senator Sumner and a large number of sympathizers, boldly oppose him in New England. In Pennsylvania, Senator Cameron is almost forced to the wall, while Governor Geary openly fights his administration. In Nebraska, publicly and without reservation, Senator Tipton announces that he will not vote for Grant. In Illinois, Trumbull and Logan cannot be counted on to sustain the President. In Missouri, Schurz and Governor Brown openly and bitterly oppose Grant. In Iowa, the probabilities are that his tool, Senator Harlan, will fail to be re-elected.

Still there is such a cry for office in the Radical party, there is so much bitter and jealous feeling that the probabilities are that Grant, with all his unpopularity, will be renominated. If the Democratic party will be true to themselves, the indices all point to a triumph by them in 1872.

Death of Hon. John Slidell.

A telegram from London has announced the death of this distinguished gentleman. He died at the age of seventy-eight. Mr. Slidell has played a prominent part in the politics of the country. In early life he embarked in mercantile pursuits in the city of New York. Abandoning commercial life he removed to New Orleans, embraced the profession of the law, and was soon a prominent member of the Louisiana bar. He was appointed by President Jackson United States Attorney for the District of Louisiana. He served the New Orleans District for several terms in the State Legislature—was elected to Congress in 1843, and served as a member until 1845.

In 1845 he was appointed Envoy Extraordinary, by President Polk, to negotiate for the settlement of difficulties between Mexico and this Government. In 1853 he was chosen United States Senator. He was afterwards re-elected for six years. Mr. Slidell served with ability on important committees, and was a supporter of Southern State Rights. After the adoption of the Ordinance of Secession by Louisiana, he withdrew from the Senate. In the fall of 1861, the Confederate Government appointed him Commissioner to France. His capture, confinement and release from Fort Warren is well known. Mr. Slidell has resided in Paris since the war, until the recent war in Europe forced him to London.

General Grant.

The Terre Haute, (Ind.) Gazette, has a letter in one of its columns, which it says, was written by one of the most distinguished Republicans of Indiana, who is temporarily residing in Washington; a man who was also a member of the Convention which gave General Grant his nomination in 1868. A part of the letter is quoted by the Gazette as follows: "This is admitted by all candid men to be the littlest, meanest, and most trifling administrations that the country has ever had. How long will the people be humbugged by pretenders?"

Being a Republican, the writer ought to be fully acquainted with the administration, and we have no disposition to quarrel with his opinion of it. In fact, there seems to be but one idea of Grant and his administration at this time, and it is pretty generally entertained; and that is that corruption, weakness, and fraud, abounds throughout every department that comes under his management. When the intellect and the character of the men collected around Grant are examined into; when we think of the Chief Magistrate of this country traversing the Union, holding out inducements for presents; when we examine into the nepotism indulged in by Grant; when we read of his interference in the State matters of North Carolina; and then to see him so utterly careless of the interests and welfare of the country, and find him neglecting everything to indulge his own personal enjoyments, sipping brandy at Newport, and puffing cigars at Long Branch, who can drive back the thought that it is the littlest and most trifling administration we have ever had?

Robbery of Georgia.

After the chapters of spoliation in South Carolina, Tennessee and Texas, which we have recently published, it is hardly necessary to say, that the carpet-baggers have pursued a similar course of plunder in Georgia. At the outset of the civil war, Georgia was one of the most prosperous, well-governed and economically-conducted States in the Union. The internal affairs were so well managed that taxation was merely nominal, while the material wealth was developed in an extraordinary degree. An excellent railroad system yielded a large revenue to the State, and thus diminished taxes to such a degree that they were hardly felt. After the war, when military rule and reconstruction followed each other in rapid succession, and augmented oppression and corruption in turn, the "loyal" rogues who came in their train, as vultures on the heels of an advancing army, organized that vast and infamous plan of robbery, which has been extended over nearly all the Southern States, and now threatens them with general bankruptcy.

Great as are the resources of Georgia, and enterprising as are her people, it seems almost impossible for them to bear the immense burdens which have been piled up like Pelion on Ossa, by the plunderers who hold possession of the State's offices and present Legislature. The facts presented by Mr. Angier, the Treasurer of the State before the Committee of Investigation here, are astounding, and reveal a system of plunder, which, in audacity, defiance of law, and contempt of public opinion, exceeds anything yet exhibited outside of South Carolina. When we examine these revelations, and remember the education and spirit of the people, who have been thus pillaged by a band of political highwaymen, the question is natural, how they have quietly borne such thieving tyranny in tranquility. If a tenth part of these iniquities had been attempted in any Northern or Western State, a popular uprising would have been inevitable.—The Age.

☞ Tobacco grows something like cabbage;—but I never saw none of it boiled, although I have eaten biled cabbage and vinegar on it, and I have heard men say that cigars that was given to them on election day for nothing was cabbage leaves. Tobacco stores are mostly kept by wooden Injuns, who stand at the door and try to fool little boys by offering them a bunch of cigars which is glued into the Injun's hand, and is made of wood also. Hogs do not like tobacco, neither do I. Tobacco was invented by a man named Walter Raleigh. When the people first saw him smoking, they thought he was a steamboat, and as they had never seen a steamboat, they were frightened. My sister Nancy is a girl. I don't know whether she likes tobacco or not. There is a young man by the name of Leroy who comes to see her. I guess she likes Leroy. He was standing on the steps one night, and he had a cigar in his mouth, and he said he didn't know as she would like it, and she said, "Leroy, the perfume is agreeable." But the next morning, when my brother Tom lighted his pipe, Nancy said, "Get out of the house, you horrid creature, the smell of tobacco makes me sick." Snuff is Injun meal made out of tobacco. I took a little snuff once, and then I sneezed.—J. Billings.

LAGRANGE, GA., August 1, 1871.

Editor Constitution: Having almost unexpectedly spent a most delightful day in this beautiful little city of Western Georgia, your occasional correspondent feels impelled to write you respecting what he saw and heard in the Court-house here to-day. According to previous appointment, Hon. J. R. Lewis, State School Commissioner, met the Board of Education of this county, together with the Trustees elect of the various districts of the county, to confer with them with reference to their duties, and to address the people generally on the subject of public education. He could scarcely have a better audience. There were gathered in the Court-house about two hundred and fifty of the very best men of the country, who, with nearly as many colored men, gave him a most earnest attention. He was introduced to the audience by Colonel Joseph H. Fannin, President of the Board of Education for this county.

The Commissioner's address was excellent and well suited to the occasion. He showed the importance of the universal dissemination of education, drawing his illustrations from Prussia, France and from the statistics of our own State. He showed the superior economy and efficiency of public over private schools, and that taxation for education does not increase the burdens of a community, but relieves the community by diminishing pauperism and crime. The tendency of taxation, too, is to equalize burdens, real estate, rents and wages, all participating in sustaining them. He pointed out the manner of organizing the schools, and setting in operation the system of public education under the new law. He admitted that the law is defective in some respects, but hoped those defects would be remedied by suitable action of our next Legislature.

At the conclusion of his address, in answer to various interrogatories, he showed that the establishment of public schools would greatly benefit our State by encouraging immigration. He also advocated the mingling of the sexes in the schools, both on the ground of the better classification thus secured, and also for, as he thought, the refining and elevating influences of the sexes upon each other when educated together.

Mr. B. Mallon, Principal of the Girls' High School, Savannah, who was present, was then called upon to give his views upon the subject, and especially to give some account of the public schools of that city. He gave a history of the public schools of Savannah, from their small beginning with one school and two hundred scholars, in 1855, to their present complete success, having in them now all, or nearly all, of the children of the city, including all classes. He said there had been educated in these public schools during the past year, about 2,300 pupils, including all grades, from the primary to the high school, at an average cost of about $18 per scholar. These schools were supported by a direct tax upon the city, which was more cheerfully paid than any other tax, the people regarding the education of their entire community as one of their most important interests. He explained in detail, the classification and workings of these schools, and said the citizens of Savannah were proud of them.

Mr. Mallon said there was no good reason why all the cities of the State should not have an equally effective system of public schools, and urged that by no other plan can all the children of our towns be educated. With some modifications the principle is equally applicable to the entire State.

The County Board of Commissioners, Hon. Jas. H. Fannin, President; Colonel Jno. E. Toole, Secretary, then held their regular quarterly meeting.

The Board is composed of thirteen members, one for each militia district, nearly all of whom were present. Their reports showed that the colored population of the county is greater than the white.

The members of the Board are intelligent, energetic men, fully alive to the importance of the subject, having faith in the success of the schools, and the confidence and approval of the people.

A committee was appointed to prepare resolutions expressive of the views of the meeting on the important subject presented to them in the addresses just listened to.

The committee consisted of Hon. Benj. H. Bigham, W. O. Tuggles, Esq., Rev. M. B. Harden, Col. Jno. E. Toole, Jno H. Traylor, Esq.

Judge Bigham, in behalf of the committee presented the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the general diffusion of intelligence being the crowning glory of free institutions like ours, it is our deliberate opinion, that the people of Georgia ought to continue their efforts to reach that high point in civilization when every child of every inhabitant of the State, shall enjoy liberal privileges of education. If the present legislation of the State is not found sufficient for the soonest and most efficient and earnest accomplishment of that good object, speaking for ourselves, we declare that we are willing faithfully and earnestly and patiently to try it. To that end we will sustain our Board of Education in such steps as they may deem necessary after due consideration to adopt. This we do, entertaining a hope that all defects of law, that experience may demonstrate to exist, will be amended in due time, and coupling our co-operation with the request to all officially engaged in the execution of the existing laws, to frankly report defects, so that remedy may be promptly applied and gradual improvement take place.

Resolved, That the thanks of the County Board of Education be unanimously tendered to Hon. J. R. Lewis, State School Commissioner, and Mr. B. Mallon, of Savannah, for the very able and instructive addresses this day delivered to the citizens of Troup county on the great subject of popular education.

These resolutions brought out several able and enthusiastic speeches, all approving the effort now making to provide education for all, and cordially endorsing the views expressed in the addresses.

The remarks of Hon. C. W. Mabry, of Judge Bigham, and of Mr. Tuggle, showed that these gentlemen have given much consideration to the subject, and that they are thoroughly satisfied that we can reach the general education of our people by no other plan than by a system of free public education.

Truly yours,
OCCASIONAL.

UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA.

The Alumni Banquet—Interesting Speeches on the Occasion—Simms and Armistead's Addresses.

Special Correspondence of The Constitution.]

ATHENS, GA., August 2, 1871.

Editor Constitution: The convocation of the Alumni of the University of Georgia may be regarded as an epoch in the history of the University. It was a happy conception that should result in collecting together the fragmentary representatives of the mysterious and misty non-progressive past of a half century ago, and all the intermediate cycles of years down to the present moment of wonderful developments and progress. The occasion has witnessed the unsteady step of the graduate of fifty-six years ago, approaching, with measured movement, the buoyant, gushing youth of 1870. Between these widely separated periods hundreds of the sons of Alma Mater are scattered along in columns, growing thinner as they penetrate into the hazy decades most remote, until hither and thither far back in the weary journey may be seen in the dusty path of life a few tired travelers, who have here and there forever parted company with comrades who entered together upon life's busy arena. We pursue our melancholy retrograde journey until the passage of five and a half decades brings us to the year 1815, where we find a solitary representative of the University, in the person of that highly esteemed and polished Athenian, Dr. Henry Hull. Preparatory to repairing to the banquet hall, the Alumni were summoned to the Lecture Room, where a tastefully arranged and appropriate inscription greeted the eye. It consisted of gold characters, and appeared thus: 1800—1871—Welcome to our Alumni—and respectively, under each period in the order named, was suspended a wreath in which, in the form of a semicircle, was displayed, "Our Alumni, Our Boys." The banquet was spread at Dupree's Hall. The center table was presided over by the master of ceremonies, Col. Wm. L. Mitchell, flanked by well laden boards, presided over respectively by Chancellor Lipscomb and Hon. C. J. Jenkins. Generous wines, luscious fruits, tempting dainties, and substantial viands covered the extended boards. A blessing was pronounced by Dr. B. M. Palmer, which was a signal for active operations all along the line. The regular toasts were announced and responded to in the order designated in the programme:

Gov. Jenkins, in response to the sentiment, "To the present Board of Trustees," furnished a history of the University: traced it through its varied fortunes, its shadowy and more luminous portions of its long career. The venerable institution had never been placed beyond the contingency of failure by any endowment fund. It had struggled alone for existence, and had only received substantial recognition of $20,000 from one liberal individual. It merited succor of the State for past services and promise of future achievements.

Chancellor Lipscomb, in response to the sentiment, "To the Chancellor and Professors now in office," demonstrated the intense and abiding interest that he felt in the prosperity of the University. He desired the sphere of its usefulness to be enlarged. He is a tower of strength, and enjoys the respect and confidence of the friends of the institution over which he presides with such eminent ability and success.

"To the living Alumni." To this Hon. Hope Hull responded, and showed the evidence of the substantial service that had been rendered the country in the career of the University. His earnest and honest utterances were listened to with profound interest.

The announcement of the seventh toast: "To the Alumni of the first quarter of the present century," called up Hon. Iverson L. Harris, who, in his details of the history of the first graduates of the University, greatly interested the Alumni. The college was founded in 1800, and the first graduating class consisted of nine members, who took their degrees in 1804. Their names are Gibson, Clark (brother of Governor John Clark,) Augustus S. Clayton, Jeptha V. Harris, Wm. H. Jackson (brother of Judge James Jackson, of Macon,) Robert Rutherford, William Williamson, Jared Irwin, Thomas Irwin, James Jackson. Of the career of these graduates, Judge Iverson was perhaps the most familiar of any living man, his relation to them was such as to put him in possession of many interesting incidents connected with their career, and served to make up a record of their lives. Only one of their number survives—W. H. Jackson—the rest, one by one, have passed away. The class of 1805 consisted of the following graduates: Wilson Bird, Gabrael Mathews, Stephen W. Harris, and Robert Rowland, all of whom have served their day and generation, and "fell on sleep."

Hon. James Jackson answered to the demands of the eighth toast—"To the Alumni of the second quarter of the present century." Judge Jackson recounted with a heart full of feeling the achievements of some of those who fell within the limits of the decades embraced in the second quarter of the present century. The brilliant career of Bartow and others who "illustrated Georgia" on the battle-field, and who figured in the forum and the councils of our common country, were vividly portrayed by the fervent and eloquent speaker.

Colonel A. O. Bacon gave an interesting history of those who belonged to the third quarter of the present century. They occupied a space but a brief time in life's arena, but many of them had already attained distinction.

Dr. H. V. M. Miller responded to the call that had reference to the members of his profession. He thought it quite wonderful that they had secured recognition in the list of regular toasts that had been provided for the evening. He belonged to a modest, unobtrusive profession—not like the members of the legal profession, who were the most "active set of little trumpeters," and who were not too modest to blow their own horns, and thus sound their own fames abroad.

Gov. J. E. Brown, represented the legal profession and retorted upon Dr. Miller for the raid that he made upon the worthy members of his profession. The Governor pointed to many names of renown that were found in the catalogues of the University.

Rev. B. M. Palmer, D. D., was called up in behalf of the exalted and worthy profession of which he is so distinguished a member—he delineated the sacred offices and duties of the ministry in pathetic and graphic utterances.

Mr. W. W. Thomas, Chief Engineer of the Northeastern Railroad—answered for the engineer corps. He said that in glancing over all that large and intelligent assemblage, his eye fell not upon one that belonged to his profession—his relation, therefore, was a peculiar one. Mr. Thomas paid a merited tribute to his profession. His style of speaking was attractive, his matter good, and his modesty gave grace and comeliness to the whole performance. We predict a brilliant career for this young man—he doubtless possesses the elements of success.

Mr. Dessau made an eloquent speech in honor of the legal profession, and gave a fine illustration in his effort of the power to hold an audience, he has vigor, and an impressive manner.

Mr. Edgar G. Simmons delivered a beautiful address before the Demosthenian Society. He commands a large audience. He has the reputation being a very fine orator, and received the medal two years ago in the sophomore class as the best declaimer.

W. T. Armistead delivered last night, the address before the Phi Kappa Society. His theme was "Mystery," which was well treated and delivered in an animated style. Mr. A's manner is fervid.

GREENBRIER WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, August 2.—In the Dental Convention this morning, discussion on dental physiology was resumed, and participated in by Prof. Taft, Dr. Howe, Prof. Brown, Drs. Atkinson, McQuillen, Harriman, and Prof Judd.

The report on dental pathology and surgery was read by Dr. Atkinson, of New York, and was received with hearty applause.

The convention adjourned till 3½ o'clock, P. M.

The arrivals average now 100 per day. Among the number last night, was ex-Secretary of War C. M. Conrad, of Louisiana, General Robert Toombs, of Georgia.

ALEXANDRIA, August 2.—Hon. Horace Greeley, who was here on a visit, delivered an address at the Methodist Episcopal Church this afternoon. The notice being short, there was not a large, though highly intelligent audience, composed principally of Southern men. Mr. Greeley said he thought it desirable to have a respite of politics this year, in anticipation of the grave issues that would have to be met next year. Reconstruction had been thought slow, but it had been fast enough, had all been agreed. Six years under military rule would have been better, because of the imposition of light taxes, there would have been no parties, no fury, no creation of debt. Southern men were not prepared to go into the Union at once from the war. The South had recuperated faster than any other country did before—faster than this country after the revolution. Proscription should be set aside. If the men who seceded were to be represented, they wanted their first not their fifth choice. The efforts to disfranchise negroes ought not to be made. He warmly favored the new departure, saying that foreigners could not be disfranchised twenty years ago. How could four millions of blacks now be disfranchised. The Democracy ought to accept the XVth Amendment, and the Republicans would doubtless advocate the removal of disabilities. When these questions passed away, finance would claim attention, and be argued strongly in favor of paying the national debt as fast as possible.

It was the only way to keep up the public credit. Virginians thought too much of politics. They should devote their attention to the development of their natural resources. They had all the resources of Pennsylvania, and could be equal to that State. They wanted wise and active men. They should have faith in their State. Every man ought to look for a mine, a water-power, etc., in order to utility.

He closed with a eulogy on Henry Clay and the policy of the deceased statesman. He was warmly applauded, and most of those present were introduced to him.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

CHARLESTON, August 2.—The municipal election which took place to-day, was one of the most exciting ever known here. The opposing parties were the citizens' party, embracing the white voters with such colored voters as they could draw to their support, and the Republican party, consisted of the bulk of the colored voters, with a small portion of the whites, chiefly State and city officials. Gilbert Pillsbury, the present Mayor and John A. Wagner, a prominent German, were respectively the Republican and citizens' candidates. Business of every kind was suspended to-day and all the voters remained at the polls at the request of leading citizens who apprehended violence. A small squad of United States troops was detained to each precinct, and by their aid several disturbances which threatened to end in serious riot were quelled. One man was shot during the day. The contest is thought to be close, and both claim the victory. The vote will be counted to-morrow.

City Intelligence.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—The Atlanta House, close to the Union Passenger Depot, on Decatur street, with fifteen rooms, is offered for rent.

The biggest thing of the season is the old fashioned barbacue which comes off at Buford on the 10th instant for the benefit of a new church. Twenty cars have been engaged and a band for the occasion. Tickets for round trip, including meals, $1.

Buy your crockery and glassware at No. 47 Peachtree street, of T. R. Ripley, one of our most energetic and upright citizens.

The copartnership existing between Donald & Wellhouse, has been dissolved, and in future M. Wellhouse will conduct the business.

Some unfortunate individual has lost a bunch of keys, including a post-office key.

Mrs. E. W. Mabbett applies to Judge Pittman, Ordinary of Fulton county, for exemption of personalty.

C. H. Eddleman applies to Judge Pittman, Ordinary of Fulton county, for exemption of personalty and setting apart a homestead.

For good groceries, see R. H. Goodman.

Lawshe & Haynes are offering their entire stock at greatly reduced prices.

GONE A FISHING.—The Georgia Senator who was dog bit a few nights ago, has gone a fishing with a few friends. He is still mad with the dog.

FOR SALE.—The news stand at the Postoffice is offered for sale by Orion Dozier, as he contemplates a change of business.

MOON SHINE.—The moon light excursion party to Stone Mountain announced for last night, failed to get off, from some unknown cause to this reporter.

R. H. GOODMAN.—For a full stock of good articles in the grocery line call on R. H. Goodman, on Peachtree street. He keeps the best to be had. Give him a call.

"STRUCK SLATE."—Chief Justice Lochrane, on Tuesday, purchased the Blance Slate Quarry Mines, at public sale, for $7,000. The Judge is sound on the slate question.

REVIVALS.—The revival at the Third Baptist church still progresses with unabated interest. A revival is going on at Evan's Chapel, and much interest is manifested.

ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE.—A negro woman attempted to commit suicide yesterday by taking laudanum. Her husband is almost crazy on account of it, and can assign no reason for the rash act. It is thought she will recover.

GOOD JOKE ON THE POLICE.—A few nights ago, one of the secret benevolent societies in this city, while conferring degrees, made so much noise that the police thought a general riot had broken out among them, and went up to squelch it.

OLD FASHIONED BARBACUE.—An old fashioned barbacue will be given at Buford on the 10th instant. Twenty cars have been engaged for the occasion. Fare for the round trip and dinner, one dollar. The proceeds will be applied in erecting a new church at Buford.

STATE FAIR PREMIUMS.—We learn that the contract for supplying the premiums for the State Fair to be held in Macon in October, has been awarded to Messrs. Sharp & Floyd, jewelers, of this city. This is a handsome and deserved compliment to them, they having furnished the premiums for the State Fair last year.

SECOND BAPTIST CHURCH.—At a meeting of the members of the Second Baptist Church, held in the lecture room last night, a committee was appointed to report the name of some suitable divine for pastor at the regular conference on Friday night week, when, if the church should deem it expedient, an election will be held.

CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE.—We invite attention to the card of T. R. Ripley, in another column. Mr. Ripley has been established in business here for twenty-one years. His store is on Peachtree street, where he keeps a large stock of Crockery and Glass Ware. He offers inducements to cash buyers equal to any market.

INCREASED FACILITIES.—We learn that the machinery of the Agricultural works of Glenn & Wright were recently bought by J. W. Kirkpatrick, of Decatur, and will be removed there to his furniture factory, thus increasing his facilities to manufacture furniture.

ACQUITTED. — John McMahon was arraigned before Justice W. M. Butt yesterday, charged with assault with intent to murder on the man Raglan. After hearing the evidence offered by the prosecution (the defence offering no testimony,) Justice Butt discharged the accused. The weight of the testimony was to the effect that Raglan committed the assault, and that McMahon was retreating from Raglan, who was pursuing him with a billet of wood, at the time he fired and wounded Raglan.

PERSONAL.— Judge William Schley, of Savannah, is in the city, stopping at the Kimball House.

Hon. John T. Clark, of Southwest Georgia, is in the city, looking remarkably well.

Gen. A Austell has gone to Columbia, S. C., to attend a meeting of the Directors of the Atlanta and Richmond Air-Line Railway Company.

CHAWED.—Two cotton buyers late yesterday evening, while wending their way homeward up Broad street, spied a wagon stopped at the corner of Broad and Marietta streets. Both exclaimed with joyful emotions, "that's a load of cotton; I know it by the way the driver sits." "We'll go it along on this and turn(er) corner." Imagine their chagrin on discovering it to be a wagon load of fowls. That put the beer on them!

NEEDED CHANGES.—There are several changes needed in our city. The election of members of Council by wards only should be done away with, and Councilmen should be elected by the voters in every ward. The 1st Ward should be divided into two wards. An Auditor of Accounts should be elected and all accounts submitted to him during the week. Much time is frittered away by Council in considering accounts during their sessions. The Finance Committee should adopt rigid rules for the payment of accounts, and no account over $100 not authorized by resolution of Council, paid. The police should not be compelled to light lamps and put them out. It renders them inefficient for that length of time. The city should have a regular lamp lighter.

ATLANTA VINEGAR WORKS.—Atlanta has a vinegar factory. Its only competitors are those at Louisville and Baltimore. The factory, a two-story wooden building, is situated at the corner of Bell and Foster streets. The full capacity of the works is four hundred gallons per day. The apples or other material is fermented in two fermenting vats four feet high and 600 gallons capacity each. After fermentation, the liquor is pumped up into the clarifying vat, which is 14 feet high and of 2,400 gallons capacity. The liquor percolates through oak shavings to the bottom, where it is drawn out, and pumped up into generator No. 1, (vat 18 feet high, 1,000 gallons capacity) where it percolates through oak shavings or corn cobs and through a false bottom into the bottom of the vat, which is perforated with holes. It is then drawn out and pumped into generator No. 2. The same process prevails until it reaches the bottom of genartor No. 3, when it is drawn out superior vinegar. Champaign cider is also made at these works, which eclipses the best new Jersey cider. E. R. Zimmerman is proprietor of these works.

A KNOTTY CASE.—Yesterday Justice B. D. Smith had a naughty as well as knotty case up before him. Having recuperated at the Ponce de Leon Spring, he was able to consider the case fairly and impartially. The statements of the parties interested seemed to disclose the following facts:

Robert Heuston, an aged and consumptive 15th Amendment, some time ago, left the city, leaving Louisa Heuston and several picaninnies behind to shift for themselves. Louisa, being young, was smitten with Ed. Wilson, a much younger colored man than her husband, and without telling him any thing about her old husband, she and Edward lived together. Heuston, like Enoch Arden, returns. He visits Wilson and his former wife, partakes of their hospitality, and says nothing. However, yesterday, he concluded to have the parties arrested on a charge of adultery. When brought up before Judge Smith Louisa flatly refused to go with Robert, and clove unto Edward. Edward told Robert to take his wife and go along with her. Robert, however, seemed inclined to think that his life would not be safe in Louisa's hands. Louisa was trying to get rid of Robert; Robert wanted to be rid of Louisa, and Edward of both of them. Judge Smith took bond for their appearance to answer the charge.

CONSIGNEES PER WESTERN AND ATLANTIC RAILROAD, August 2, 1871.—Cox & Bro; Garrett & Bro; Gordon, W & Co; S G Clark; Stephens & Flynn; F & G T Dodd & Co; A C & B F Wyly; Campbell, C & Co; Taylor & H el ert; L Cohen & Co; E F Davis; A K Seago; A Layden; E F Redfield & Bro; G C Rogers; L B Langford; Clayton & W; Williams, L & Co; Rolling Mill; J S Oliver & Co; Morris & Bro; McBride & Co; L B Davis; H C Sawtell; Kile, Griffin & Co; W M & R J Lowry; J J Williams & Co; H I Kimball & Co; Jordan, H Hill; E Tweedy; J H Kanner; B F Cards; D Fechter; J T Carter; L B Langford; McNaught, O & Co; Eubanks, Smith & Co; E Van Goldsmoven; Wm Laird.

ATLANTA AS A SUMMER RESORT.—Dr. J. F. Simmons received, a short time since, a letter from a lady in Illinois concerning Atlanta as a healthy summer resort. As a reply, he forwarded the following letter, originally published in Hanleiter's Directory:

ATLANTA, GA., January 1, 1870.

Capt. W. R. Hanleiter:

DEAR SIR—In compliance with your request, I herewith furnish such information in reference to the sanitary condition of Atlanta, and its claims as a health resort, as an experience of five years as Health officer of the city has enabled me to present. Meteorological, Barometrical and Thermometrical observations have been recorded, I apprehend, by other and competent professional gentlemen. The altitude of Atlanta is 1,050 feet above the level of the sea. The climate is remarkably salubrious and the atmosphere possesses in a high degree an elasticity that is pleasant to all who have resided or visited here. As a healthy locality of health it will compare favorably with any Southern city.

As a summer resort it is attracting much attention, and many seekers of health and pleasure repair hither to enjoy the pure and exhilarating air of this climate. The morbid sensation of languor and sense of weakness incident to lower latitudes, and which state is induced by exhaustion of strength and the encroachment of agents that exist in less favored localities, and that impair health by the constant draft upon the vital forces, and that tend to lessen the vigor of the system is never experienced here.

The water of the Atlanta Mineral Springs has demonstrated its efficiency as a medicinal agent. Its patrons have not failed to secure the advantages that were developed by an analysis furnished by Professor A. Means in 1859.

The springs yields 60 gallons per hour, and the report of the analysis is here reproduced.

ESTIMATE MADE UPON ONE GALLON IMPERIAL MEASURE.

Specific gravity (distilled water being 1)..10,005
Temperature..........................	66	far.
Quantity per hour (now 60)............	22½	gals.

GASEOUS CONTENTS:

Carbonic acid............................	566	cubic ins.
Hydro-sulphuric acid....................	123	cubic ins
Atmospheric air, about................	1½	per cent.

SOLID CONTENTS.

Iron as a proto-carbonate, suspended in carbonic acid gas..........	13.34 grs.
Sulphate of Magnesia..................	11.84 grs.
Carbonate of Magnesia................	4.15 grs.
Magnesia as base in both............	8.0 grs.
Chloride of Sodium....................	16.5 grs.
Lime..............................	a trace
Silica..............................	not estimated
Entire solid contents..................	55.11 grs.

The analysis thus made indicates that the water is applicable to such diseases as dyspepsia, general debility, chronic diarrhoea, torpidity of the secretory functions, etc. It may be proper to state that within a period of four years, the city has had an accession of about 10,000 inhabitants, the knowledge of which fact will serve to some extent to account for the increased number of deaths. During the years 1866 and 1867, the victims of small-pox contributed a large percentage to the lists of city interments.

Atlanta being the point of intersection of a number of railroads, in order to arrive at a proximate estimate of the true sanitary condition of the city, due allowance must be accorded for invalids who, being in transitu, not unfrequently find places in our mortuary reports, in the act of making a temporary sojourn here in order to seek repose or recover from the effects of fatigue or exhaustion incident to travel.

In September, 1866, some excitement prevailed in the community in consequence of the existence of cholera. And in order to arrive at a proper understanding of the extent of the epidemic as it existed in the city, an extract from the report from the Board of Health, furnished at the time, is reproduced. "Asiatic Cholera having made its appearance in this city, it devolves upon the Board of Health to make such report of the cases and the circumstances attending them, as the facts may justify. On Saturday, the 8th inst., a company of Federal recruits arrived from New Port Barracks, Kentucky. On reaching the quarters provided for them in the city, it was discovered that three of the number were suffering from an attack of cholera, one of whom was pulseless and in a state of collapse—this proved fatal. The remaining two were violent, but are now convalescent. Three other cases were developed last night, but each of a mild form. No apprehension in entertained that this dreaded epidemic will extend in the community, those who come here with it, having been stationed at a post on the Ohio river where the infection had made its appearance. Persons desiring to visit the city may do so with impunity, danger of catching the disease need not be apprehended." It will be perceived that the disease was contracted elsewhere—no case originated in the city, which is prima facie evidence that we shall be exempt from the terrors of this scourage of some of our Southern cities.

The list of mortality for the five years that have just elapsed since the close of the war, will be found in the subjoined report:

DEATHS.

	Whites.	Colored.	Total
1866	311	379	690
1867	2.3	253	465
1 6.	56	365	421
1 6.	238	291	529
18.0	298	516	814

A striking feature is the excess of mortality among the colored population. Although they number, within the city limits, about 3,000 less than the whites, yet the mortality shows an excess of 487 deaths for the past five years; a result due, doubtless in no inconsiderable degree, to their ignorance of the laws of Hygiene.

J. N. SIMMONS,
Chairman Board of Health.

SUPREME COURT OF GEORGIA—August 2, 1871.—An additional case was put upon the Pataula Circuit.

Argument of No. 23, Southwestern Circuit, was concluded.

No. 22, which had been passed over, was argued. It is Mary C. Stewart vs. Wm. Stewart, administrator. Application for dower, from Sumter.

C. T. Goode, Phil Cook, for plaintiff in error.
W. A. Hawkins, for defendant.

McCay, J., having been of counsel below, did not preside in this case.

Hawkins & Burke, Phil Cook, M. H. Blanford, N. A. Smith and C. B. Hudson, for plaintiffs in error.
C. T. Goode, for defendant.

Pending the argument of this case, the Court adjourned till 10 o'clock A. M. to-morrow.

A NARROW GAUGE ENGINE.—Of late much has been written about narrow gauge roads. Yesterday the curious were gratified with the sight of a narrow gauge engine, as it passed up on the Atlanta and West Point Railroad on a flat car. It does not differ materially from large engines, except in size. The gauge of the engine is three feet; the diameter of the driving wheels is three feet also, and the diameter of the smaller wheels twenty inches. The engineer's cab is a casement about seven feet high and five feet square; the upper half is framed with glass windows. The cab differs from that of large engines because the rear is closed up and the engineer cannot get on to the tender, but steps from a door on each side to the ground as one would from a carriage. The engineer on this engine is only half the distance from the ground that one on an ordinary engine is—two feet instead of four. This engine was manufactured by the Danforth Locomotive and Machine Company, Patterson, New Jersey, and is intended for the Tallassee Railroad running, we believe, from Tallassee to Chehaw, Alabama. The engine is numbered 140.

DASTARDLY OUTRAGE.—We learn that while the switch engine on the Western and Atlantic Railroad was standing on the siding near the Fair Grounds last evening, two little boys, aged about six and eight years, living near by, came and sat down on the bank opposite the engine to watch its operations, when the engineer or some one upon the engine, out of pure mischief, opened a hot water cock upon the engine and let a full stream of nearly boiling water upon these innocent children, scalding one of them so severely as to endanger his life. Our informant says that it is not fully known who was the wretch that committed the outrage, but steps have been taken to expose him and bring him to justice.

We learn that this is not the first outrage of the kind that the hands upon that engine have been guilty of. We trust the officers of the road will take the matter in hand.

GOOD MEASURE AND RUNNING OVER. Dooley's Yeast Powder has already taken the precedent over others, from its well known strength and purity; but aside from these facts, it is put up in cans holding the FULL WEIGHT as represented, which is rarely the case with those of ordinary manufacture. Hence, Dooley's Yeast Powders is the best purest, strongest and cheapest ever offered to the consumer, and every one who has used it will readily testify to this assertion. For sale in quantities to suit by all good grocers.

SCIENCE ADVANCES.—As soon as an article purporting to be of utility has been tested, and its merits endorsed by public opinion, unprincipled parties endeavor to replenish their depleted purses by counterfeiting, and substituting a spurious for the genuine article. Some time since, mercury, in the disguise of pills, powders, etc., was given for all diseases of the stomach and liver, while quinine was freely administered for the chills. At length Hostetter's Stomach Bitters made its advent, and an entire new system of healing was inaugurated. The beneficial effects of this valuable preparation were at once acknowledged, and mineral poisons suffered to sink into that obscurity to which an enlighted age has consigned them. There have been many spurious bitters palmed upon the community, which, after trial, have been found perfectly worthless, while Hostetter's has proved a blessing to thousands, who owe to it their restoration to health.

For many years we have watched the steady progress of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in public estimation, and its beneficient effects as a cure for all complaints arising from the stomach of a morbid nature, and we are free to say that it can be relied upon as a certain relief and remedy. Its proprietors have made the above preparation, after years of careful study and sitting, and are now reaping the reward claimed by this valuable specific, and which they so richly merit. It is the only preparation of the kind that is reliable in all cases, and it therefore demands the attention of the afflicted.

Dr. Radway's
Sarsaparillian Resolvent

Has made the most astonishing Cures; so quick, so rapid are the changes the Body undergoes, under the influence of this Truly Wonderful Medicine, that

EVERY DAY AN INCREASE IN FLESH AND WEIGHT IS SEEN AND FELT.
THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

Every drop of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT communicates through the Blood, Sweat, Urine, and other fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life, for it repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphilis, Consumption, Glandular disease, Ulcers in the throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumorous discharges from the Ears and the worst forms of Skin diseases, Eruptions, Fever, Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Acne, Black Spots, Worms in the Flesh, Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges, Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent powers to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that is continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these wastes, and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood—and this the SARSAPARILLIAN will and does secure—a cure is certain; for when once this remedy commences its work of purification, and succeeds in diminishing the loss of wastes, its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving, and flesh and weight increasing.

Not only does the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT excel all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional, and Skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for

Kidney and Bladder Complaints

Urinary, and Womb diseases, Gravel, Diabetes, Dropsy, Stoppage of Water, Incontinence of Urine, Bright's Disease, Albuminuria, and in all cases where there are brick dust deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, or threads like white silk, or there is a morbid, dark, billious appearance, and white bone-dust deposits, and when there is a pricking, burning sensation when passing water, and pain in the Small of the Back and along the Loins.

TARRANT'S
SELTZER
APERIENT.

A REBELLIOUS STOMACH.—The Stomach, like the body politic, resents ill-treatment by rebellion. And when it rebels, the liver, the bowels, the nerves, the circulation, the brain, revolt likewise, and the whole system is disastrously agitated. Pacify and regulate the deranged digestive organ first, and the disturbance in its dependencies will speedily cease. The tonic, alterative, corrective and purifying properties of render it an irresistible remedy in cases of indigestion and its concomitant ailments. It is a fine stomachic, and its cathartic operation is so mild and genial, that it never produces the slightest symptoms of debility.

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT,

GIVE ME A LOVING HEART.

Give me a loving heart!
'Tis better far than fame!
Which is at best a fleeting thing,
The breathing of a name.
For laurels gathered fresh and green,
Where flowers in beauty bloom—
When bound around a mortal brow,
Soon wither in the tomb.

Give me a loving heart!
More precious far than gold;
Or all the wealth that India boasts,
Yes, India's wealth twice told.
For what are gold or pearls,
Or kingly diadems—
Compared with one true loving heart,
The purest of earth's gems?

Give me a loving heart!
To cheer me on their way,
Thro' this dark world of sin and pain,
To one of endless day.
For naught can calm the troubled breast,
Or holier brain impart,
To the life-weary pilgrim here—
Than one true loving heart!

SHUT THE DOOR SOFTLY.

Shut the door softly, mother's asleep,
Her fever is broken, her slumber is deep,
Look in her pale face, and see there no pain—
Darling, be thankful, we've mother again.

Shut the door softly, and come to her side.
What should we do if our mother had died?
She who has loved us our weary lives through—
Shut the door softly, and do as I do.
Shut the door softly, and kneel with me here,
To Him who has spared us our own mother dear;
Who has given her back to our arms once again,
Borne her through danger and softened her pain.

Shut the door softly, and look in her face,
And see how it gathered in health and in grace.
Is she not handsome, this mother of ours,
Waking to life like the budding of flowers?
Let us lose all in this fast flying life,
Sister and brother, and husband and wife,
Mother's love only, all times has defied;
Shut the door softly, and come to her side.

Shut the door softly, mother's awake,
Back from the shores of the fathomless lake;
Weary with travel, but laden with charms,
Longing to clasp us within her arms.
Mother, dear mother! we loved you before,
Now we shall love you a thousand times more,
Welcome dear heart from the shadowy land;
Shut the door softly, and kiss her dear hand.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL EXTRAORDINARY.

Young America in Parsing.

Red-headed Girls Demand the Immediate Execution of the Little Imps.

Lee High School.

For The Constitution.]

Editor Constitution: At the recent splendid exhibition of the "Lee High School," in Greenesboro, Ga., a class of small sprouts, three feet high, and in prodigious standing collars, got off the following specimen of their progress in parsing. The audience was speechless, and many hands were lifted in horror:

Teacher—Parse man.

Pupil—Man is a common noun of the feminine gender.

Teacher—What's that, sir?

Pupil—Man is a common noun of the feminine gender—common, 'cause he can be bought cheap; and feminine gender 'cause he's always got women on the brain; 8th person, 'cause his wife and six children come first—is in the objective case and governed by a woman.

Teacher—Go to your seat, sir, and put a wet cloth on your head.

Teacher—Next, parse woman.

Pupil—Woman is a female noun of the masculine gender.

Teacher—Mercy on us! what do you say, sir?

Pupil—She's a female noun of the masculine gender—masculine, 'cause she wears the breechaloons and is determined to vote; she's compounded of cotton, whalebone, starch, smiles, sunshine and thunder clouds—is in the first person, 'cause she's always the person speaking; plural number, 'cause she makes more noise than half a dozen parrots—is in the objective case and governed by the fashions.

Teacher—Sit down, sir, and rinse your mouth with prophylactic fluid.

Teacher—Next; parse "boy."

Pupil—Boy is an uncommon noun, of the goslin gender and female persuasion.

Teacher—Thunder and blackjacks! What is that, sir?

Pupil—Boy is an uncommon noun, of the goslin gender and female persuasion—uncommon, 'cause he's hard to find now-a-days; goslin gender, 'cause he soon enters the threshold of goosehood; female persuasion, 'cause he's always got the heart-sick about some female; first person, big Ike; singular number, 'cause there's nobody but himself; in the objective case, and governed by his embryo mustache, Schiedam Schnapps, and the length of his daddy's purse.

Teacher—Go home, sir, and bathe your feet in mustard.

Teacher—Parse "girl."

Pupil—Girl is an angelic noun, of the Grecian bend gender, and masculine tendencies.

Teacher—Save us from sudden death! These boys will never be raised. How is that, sir?

Pupil—Girl is an angelic noun, 'cause she paints her cheeks and loves inguns; she's compounded of cosmetics, flowers, fuss and feathers; is of masculine tendencies, 'cause she wears shirt bosoms, paper collars, and always has her head full of boys; singular number, 'cause the boys are afraid of them, and matrimony is played out; third person, 'cause she's much spoken of; in the objective case and governed by a gypsey bonnet.

Teacher—Next, Parse Corn.

Pupil—Corn is an uncommon noun of the neuter gender.

Teacher—Bless my life! Go on, sir.

Pupil—Corn is an uncommon noun, 'cause farmers have well nigh quit raising it—it is used as an adjective and belongs to Tennessee, Ohio and Kentucky. When parsed as a noun, it is in the objective case and governed by Cotton.

Teacher—Sit down, sir!

Teacher—Next, parse Cotton.

Pupil—Cotton is a royal noun of the starving gender.

Teacher—Listen at that!

Pupil—Royal, 'cause it is King, (but only over the Southern people.) Starving gender, 'cause it has well nigh starved out the South in the objective case and governed by lazy freedmen.

Teacher—Next. Parse Fashion.

Pupil—Fashion is a tyrannical noun of the common gender.

Teacher—Catfish and blunderbusses! What's that, sir?

Pupil—Fashion is a tyrannical noun, cause it must be obeyed, and laughs at a poor man's purse; common gender, cause all people bow to it; it is compounded of flounces, flimsies, flamsies, ruffles, scuffles, bubbles, troubles, ruffs, cuffs, snuffs, higgles, giggles, sniggles, curls, furls, hairs, snares, Grecian bend, fuss and feathers. It was once in the objective case and governed by Eugenie, but is now in the nominative case, independent.

Teacher—Go home, sir, and go to bed.

Teacher—Next, parse baby.

Pupil—Baby is an obstreperous, musical noun of the neuter gender.

Teacher—Moses and the prophets save us from destruction! What do you say, you little imp?

Pupil—Baby is a musical noun, cause it sings a soft tune between midnight and day, specially of a cold night—it is neuter gender, cause its neither male nor female till it is big enough to wear breeches. It weighs according to size, and measures according to proportions. Is compounded of milk and lungs, and specially of lungs, grows at a rapid rate, and soon learns to smoke cigars, drink spirits, talk short to dad, and make love to the gals. It is also of the spoilt gender, cause it is allowed to put its foot in the gravy whenever it chooses, is in the objective case and governed by candy and sugar plums.

Teacher—Go home, Sir, and tell your mother to rock you to sleep.

Teacher—Parse matrimony.

Pupil—Matrimony is an ancient noun, of the defunct gender.

Teacher—Hear him! You little vagabond, what do you say?

Pupil—Matrimony, is of the defunct gender, cause its played out. Girls are plentiful as blackberries, but they've got nothing, they toil not, neither do they spin, yet Solomon in all his glory couldn't dress like 'em. Matrimony is compounded of the words, mate and money, but when there's a match now-a-days, it is nothing without the money. Third person, cause it's spoken of much by the girls. In the objective case, and governed by the spondooliks of the girl's daddy.

Teacher—Take a back seat, sir, and rub your head with a brick!

Teacher—Parse Kissing.

Pupil—Kissing is a common, labial noun of the explosive gender.

Teacher—Sakes, alive! What do you mean?

Pupil—Kissing is the explosive gender, 'cause it is usually attended with various explosive sounds; sometimes like the bursting of a torpedo; sometimes like the sucking of a calf; sometimes like when Jacob kissed Rachel and lifted up his voice and wept. It is common cause it is peculiar to all sexes and ages, specially to young girls, preachers and widowers. Kissing is derived from bussing and is of various kinds. 1st. There's Rebus, which is bussing again. 2d. There is Omnibus, which is bussing all the gals in the room. 3d. There's blunderbus, which is one man kissing another man's wife; and 4th. There's syllabus, which is one girl kissing another girl, where so many boys are spiling for a buss. It is second person, cause it takes two persons to perform the operation; plural number, 'cause they generally take more than one when they get a chance—is in the objective case and governed by surrounding circumstances.

Just here the teacher and vast auditory broke down. A bevy of red headed girls rushed upon the rostrum and demanded that the little imps be hung instanter, if not sooner, and order was not restored till the Marshal assured them that all the little reprobates should be hung at sunrise next morning. The teacher was taken off on a window shutter.

LIVER DISEASE and Indigestion prevail to a greater extent than probably any other malady, and relief is always anxiously sought after. Indigestion, or want of action in the Liver, causes Headache, Constipation, Jaundice, Pain in the Shoulders, Cough, Dizziness, Sour Stomach, bad taste in the mouth, bilious attacks, palpitation of the heart, depression of spirits, or the blues, and a hundred other symptoms, SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR is the best remedy that has ever been discovered for these ailments. It acts midly, effectually, and being a simple vegetable compound, and can do no injury in any quantities that it may be taken. It is harmless in every way; it has been used for forty years, and hundreds of the good and great from all parts of the country will vouch for its virtues, viz:

OF THE

Northern Pacific Railroad.

RAPID PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

THE building of the Northern Pacific Railroad (begun July last) is being pushed forward with great energy from both extremities of the line. Several thousand men are employed in Minnesota and on the Pacific coast. The grade is nearly completed 266 miles westward from Lake Superior; trains are running over 130 miles of finished road, and track laying is rapidly progressing toward the eastern border of Dakota. Including its purchase of the St. Paul and Pacific Road, the Northern Pacific Company now has 413 miles of completed road, and by September next this will be increased to at least 560.

A Good Investment.—Jay Cooke & Co. are now selling, and unhesitatingly recommend, as a Profitable and perfectly safe investment, the First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They have 30 years to run, bear Seven and Three-Tenths per cent. gold interest, (more than 8 per cent. currency,) and are secured by first and only mortgage on the ENTIRE ROAD AND ITS EQUIPMENTS, and also, as fast as the Road is completed, on 23,000 Acres of Land to every mile of track or 500 Acres for each $1,000 Bond. They are exempt from United States Tax; Principal and Interest are payable in Gold; Denominations: Coupons, $100 to $1,000; Registered, $100 to $10,000.

Lands for Bonds.—Northern Pacific 7-30's are at all times receivable at TEN PER CENT. ABOVE PAR, in exchange for the Company's Lands, at their lowest cash price. This renders them practically INTEREST BEARING LAND WARRANTS.

Sinking Fund.—The proceeds of all sales of Lands are required to be devoted to the re-purchase and cancellation of the First Mortgage Bonds of the Company. The Land Grant of the Road exceeds Fifty Million Acres. This immense Sinking Fund will undoubtedly cancel the principal of the Company's bonded debt before it falls due. With their ample security and high rate of interest, there is no investment, accessible to the people, which is more PROFITABLE OR SAFE.

Exchanging U. S. Five-Twenties.—The success of the New Government 5 per cent. Loan will compel the early surrender of United States 6 per cents. Many holders of Five-Twenties are now exchanging them for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties, thus realizing a handsome profit, and greatly increasing their yearly income.

Other Securities.—All marketable Stocks and Bonds will be received at their highest current price in exchange for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties. EXPRESS CHARGES on Money or Bonds received, and on Seven-Thirties sent in return, will be paid by the Financial Agents. Full information, maps, pamphlets, etc., can be obtained on application at any agency, or from the undersigned. For sale by

"Southern Books for Southern Schools."

School-Books which are Unsectional, Unpartisan, and Unpolitical.

PREPARED BY THE MOST EMINENT SOUTHERN SCHOLARS, AND

ENTIRELY ACCEPTABLE TO SOUTHERN TEACHERS AND PARENTS

Officially adopted by the Virginia State Board of Education,

AND NOW LARGELY IN USE IN EVERY SOUTHERN STATE.

The University Publishing Co.,

An Association composed of many of the most eminent citizens of the several Southern States, feeling the necessity for a series of School-Books which should be entirely unsectional, unpartisan, and unpolitical, which should present only the facts of history and science—are now issuing a complete series of School and College Text-books by the eminent scholars and educators named below which are the

Cheapest, Best, and Most Beautiful School-Books

Now published. The "University Series" embraces

MAURY'S GEOGRAPHICAL SERIES,

By Commodore M. F. MAURY, of the Virginia Military Institute. A series of books which mark an era in the study of this science, and which, in the words of a well known and accomplished Southern teacher, "are characterized by a felicity of arrangement and simple freshness of style which must ever render them attractive to the young, and which will be used by all who wish to teach Geography as a science, as something to make pupils think, and not merely as an enumeration of dry facts."

Holmes' Readers and Spellers,

By GEORGE F. HOLMES, LL.D., Professor of History and General Literature in the University of Virginia. A series of Readers unequalled in cheapness, excellence, and typographical beauty. They are steadily progressive in character, bright and fresh in their selections of prose and verse, and illustrative of Southern scenes, incidents, and history.

Venable's Arithmetical Series,

By CHARLES S. VENABLE, LL.D., Professor of Mathematics in the University of Virginia. These books are received everywhere by intelligent teachers with the highest satisfaction, as being most admirably adapted for mental drill, as well as for business education. Their methods, rules, and reasonings are clear, distinct, logical, and comprehensive, and the series is carefully graded throughout.

Holmes' History of the United States,

By GEORGE F. HOLMES, LL.D., of the University of Virginia. It is enough to say of this admirable work, interesting, impartial, and truthful, as well as pure and graceful in style, that it is the only History of the United States which is strictly unpartisan. It comes down to the present date. Also,

De Vere's French Grammar, Readers, etc.,
Gildersleeve's Latin Series,
Carter's Elements of General History,
Holmes' English Grammars,
LeConte's Scientific Series,
Johnston's English Classics,
Duntonian Writing-Books, etc., etc.

Send for our new ILLUSTRATED DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE, which will be mailed free to any teacher or school officer. It tells what teachers think of the books, and contains specimen pages of each.
